MEWS SUMMARY.

City Affetes.

-The Athletics beat a picked nine yesterday by a score of 26 to 7. John J. Deverin, a barber on Fifth street, above Chesnut, is now under bonds on the charge of a gross assault on a young woman named Mary McNaulty, on Saturday night last. The Board of Guardians are endeavoring to have a wash-bouse and drying-room connected with the Insane Department. Mr. Parker made a growl, as usual, about the butter and flour. In violation of the rules of the board he attempted to call up a matter that was disposed of some time ago, and while he was chattering away the board adjourned, and left Parker to talk to empty benches. -The stone masons demand $4 per day for competent workmen, and will not take less than $3.50 under any circumstances.

-The Sons of St. George on Sunday last celebrated their ninety-ninth anniversary. The following gentlemen were elected officers fer the ensuing year:-President, James Allen; Vice-President, Shadrach Hill; Treasurer, James R. Webb; Secretary, William Underdown; Stewards, Joseph Lees, Samuel Lees, John Lees, William H. Lucas, William Waterall, Isaac Smith, William Ball, William Beall; Messenger, Isaac Muff. In the afterneon a banquet was partaken of at the Continental Hotel.

-The thermometer yesterday at 3 P. M. was 64 degrees, a rise of 19 from six in the morning. -Mrs. Catharine Malon, a landlady, receive advanced rent for a house, and then refused to give the house or the tenent's money back. Alderman Kerr made her pay back the money yesterday.

Domestic Affairs.

-The ship William F. Stover, from Liverpool, just arrived at New York, had seven deaths from small-pox during her passage. -One of the milis of the Rome, New York, Iron Works was destroyed by fire on Sunday morning, involving a loss of $150,000, on which there was an insurance to the amount of $100,000. -The regular sessions of the American and Mexican Joint Commission were resumed yesterday at Washington, and the term of the com-

next February. -The miners of both the Schuvlkill and Lehigh regions are fast coming to terms, and the resumption has already assumed such a character as to warrant the belief that it will be general in the course of a few days. Some of the aspirants for female suffrage who failed to persuade the election officers to accept their ballots at the recent Territorial election in the District of Columbia are about bringing suits for damages against these gentlemen, and it is their intention to carry their cases up to the United States Supreme Court, if such a thing be possible.

Foreign Affairs.

-The troops of Baez have again defeated those of Cabral. -The excitement in Hayti relative to the annexation of St. Domingo is abating. -The Commune have apologized to the Paris gas company for the recent seizure of -The Spanish generals recently exiled at the Balearic Islands have received to return home.

-The expected general attack upon the insurgents' positions around Paris has not yet commenced. -Some of the churches in Paris which were closed have been reopened and their cures released from imprisonment. -The King of Bavaria has written a letter to Dr. Dollinger, deploring the sentence of excommunication pronounced against him. -The Communists have planted torpedoes at St. Germain and the Versailles Railway station, and batteries are erected in Rue Castellane. -Owing to a disagreement between the French and Germans the transports, which were waiting at Hamburg to convey prisoners to France, have been obliged to return empty -Bismarck stated yesterday, in the German Parliament, that, although the French should pay the first instalment of the in-east of Paris would not be evacuated until a final treaty of peace was concluded. -A large number of London match manufacturers and their employes, bearing petitions against the proposed excise on matches, surrounded the Parliament House and the House of Commons, yesterday, in so turbulent a manner that the police had to disperse demnity immediately, the forts north and

-President Thiers has given a reception to a deputation from the Masonic lodges of Paris, who, on behalf of the people of the capital, asked for an armistice. In reply, M. Thiers said that General Ladmirault had the power to grant a truce whenever it should become necessary, but the Commune could never be recognized by the Government.

FLOODS IN PERU.

Seven Thousand People Subsisting on Charity-Terrible Sufferring. Accounts continue to arrive from all sides of the damage done by the late floods. It is now estimated that in the southern portion of the republic alone $7,000,000 would not cover the osses sustained. Mr. Montjoy, the United States Consul at Lambayeque, has forwarded a de-epatch to the American Minister in Lima, from which is taken the following interesting description of the flood in Lambayeque: -

This place has been almost totally destroyed by the inundation from the rivers, and from the fear the inusdation from the rivers, and from the fear-fully heavy rains that have poured down for four-teen days without intermission. The few houses that are still standing are but crumbling walls and unsafe to live in. We are without communication with other towns, except by means of two small rafts and two boats brought by the people of the port of San Jose, and two scows made and brought by some Americans at Terrinafe. The greater part of the people are encamped in hots built of bushes on the sand hills and the Huacas—the boats and rafts are employed in taking them away to the Pampas, whence they may proceed to the other towns; no whence they may proceed to the other towns; nothing saved. The water only came up to the door of my house, which is built on high ground, but through the roof the rain poured like a sieve, raining all my property. Persons with whom I had business relations are reduced to beggary, and I thus lose almost everything I possessed. To-day I have brought my family from the sand bills and the American engineers and carpenters are building me a bridge to enable me to get my family with clothing and bedding to San Jose. An hour ago an clothing and bedding to San Jose. An hour ago an express arrived from the Governor of Terrinafe, aunouncing the breaking away agala of the river of that district, which pours its waters into the river passing through this city, and we expect in a few hours to be again flooded, and that the remaining houses will come down In the street in which my house is situated but three remain, mine among them; but so injured as to be unsafe, expecting the roofs to cave in any moment. God help us and save us from another shower of rain; with that we would remain without an article of ciothing. For fourteen days we have been soaked with water, and almost without food. More than seven thousand people are subsisting on been soaked with water, and almost without food. More than seven thousand people are subsisting on the charity of the neighboring towns but that cannot last. The hadiendas of sugar and cotton have suffered terribly; crops and cattle are all swept away, and no hopes are entertained of planting again this year; six months will be necessary for the waters to subside and the land to dry; this calamity is second only to the earthquake of 1868 at Arconina."

PALACE STOCK CARS.

First Through Train from St. Louis to New York-How it All Works. The departure for New York vesterday of the first through train of Street's palace stock cars oaded with cattle is an event worthy of note. The train left Venice with 172 head of steers. A number of gentlemen invited by Mr. James Montgomery, Vice-President of the company, Montgomery, Vice-President of the company went over to Venice and witnessed the manner n which the cattle were shipped on board of the cars. There were eleven cars painted green, each arranged for holding sixteen head of cattle. To place the cattle in these cars it required on an average about nine minutes for each car, but in one instance the car was loaded with its complement of live stock in six minutes and a half Sometimes an obstinate animal could neither be coazed nor driven, and had to be propelled by wringing his tail and punching him with sticks, in order to get him on the train, but as a generai thing the bovine passengers entered the car up the inclined gangway with the alacrity of any other passenger having a free pass.

The care are arranged with separate stalls, separated by gates, which are closed as soon as an ox gets his place, and these stalls are easily adjustable to the size of the animal, so as to afford simple room for lying down, and to rise up at will. A bedding of shavings is strewn over the bottom, so that the animals have all the accommodations of a first-class sleeping-car to rest their bones. At the top of the car is a feed box, with canvas spouts which communicate with the feed basins underneath; also a water tank, affording a supply of water, by which arrangement the cattle can be fed and watered during the transit without unshipping.

The cars are built some eight feet longer than ordinary stock cars, and in regard to the width Mr. Mulball expressed the opinion that experience will require them to be wider. Underneath is the passenger-car truck, with elliptical springs and swinging bar, giving to the car the same ease of motion as the regular passenger car, the advantages of which are that the wear and tear will be no greater, the ease of motion overcoming all evil effects of the sudden stop-ping and starting of the train. The stock train will run through to New York in ninety-six hours, instead of consuming ten days as form-erly, the animals being stalled, fed, and watered without any unshipping. The cars from here pass over the Pennsylvania Company's lines, that company having made a contract for transporting cattle with the Street Palace Stock Car Company.

The latter company charges three dollars per head royalty in advance to the usual freight which royalty covers the additional expense of feeding, watering, and cost of attendance. The advantages are that stock will be delivered in less than one-half of the time consumed under the old method of stock shipment, when four stoppages had to be madelfor feeding, resting, watering. The cattle, it is claimed, will now be delivered at their destination free from bruises or losses by death, or being trampled upon, squeezed, and hooked by their fellowpassengers. The shipper can likewise calculate to an hour when his cattle will reach him, so as to meet the most favorable market, which, coupled with the saving from shrinkage, it is maintained that from one-half to one and onehalf cent per pound will be saved to the shipper. -St. Louis Democrat, 22d inst.

DER DEUTSCHE REICHSTAG.

The Address in Reply to the Speech from the Throne.

The following address in reply to the speech from the throne has been drawn up and introduced into the Reichsrath by members of all political parties:-

Most Illustrious Emperor, Most Gracious Emperor and Lord:—Under Divine guidance your Majesty and the united nation have succeeded in reaching a goal so long desired by our ancestors and so ardently hoped for by the present generation. On more solid foundations than it ever had, has the German Em-pire been restored. To preserve it in the fullness of its strength and to develop it for the promotion of liberty and peace is the resolve of the nation.

We beg your Majesty to accept the thanks due to the illustrious Commander-in-Chief of the German army, due to the bravery and devotion of our troops. We are fully sensible of the benefits conferred up in us by deeds which have not only averted present canger, but protected us from the recurrence of similar troubles in the future. Defeat, and still more the strength added to our frontiers, will henceforth restrain our neighbor.

The dire misiorune France is suffering now, in addition to the calamities of war, confirms a truth which, though often ignored, is never neglected with impurity. In the family of civilized nations, even the most powerful can remain happy only by prudently confining their action to the improvement of their own domestic happ ness.

In times past, when her rolers were governed by a doctrine imported from abroad, Germany, too, chose to meddle with the concerns of other nations, and by doing so undermined her own existence. The new empire is based upon our own views of national and political life, and, armed for defense, will be entirely devoted to works of peace. In her intercourse with foreign nations Germany claims no more for her citizens than that respect which right and international usage accord. Unmoved by healthly or friendship, she is well content to leave other nations to themselves, and will be happy to see them regulate their own affairs as they think fit. Interference with the internal arrangements of other nations will, we hope, never be resorted to again under any pretext or in any form.

Glady shall we assist your Majesty in solving the problems occasioned by the war and the constitution of the empire. Our first endeavors will be directed to the sacred task of healing the wounds in flicted by the war, and fallilling our daty to those who have sacrificed life or health for the safety of

All bills submitted to us will receive our careful attention. We are not surprised at finding that the preparation of bills devolving upon the administrative boards has been delayed by the war; and we cannot but hope that the legislation of the empire will be equally efficient as was that of the North German Confederacy. The introduction of North German laws into the Southern States enhances our confidence in the lasting concord of the constituent elements of the empire, inclusive of the organs called upon to represent the individual States, We are gratified to hear that the war indemnity will be employed for imperial purposes, and the surplus used to satisfy the just claims of individual The German people cherish the warmest feelings of brotherly sympathy for the inhabitants of the re-covered territories. Alsace and Lorraine are studded with monuments commemorating the most glorious phases of German culture and national life. Al-though the vestiges of the past may in some cases have been obliterated by long estrangement, Alsace and Lorraine have been our own for a thousand years, and the majority of their inhabitants to this day retain our language and national characteris-tics. We hope that legislation and administration will unite in reviving the German nationality in those spiendid provinces, and in streng, bening the ties which bind them to us by conciliating their feelings. In this spirit we shall undertake the work of dering the rearrangements to be introduced in Alsace and Lorraine, Your Imperial Majesty:—Germany, to be satisfied, and Europe, to be safe, required the establishment of the German empire. Our national longings for unity have been fulfilled at last, and we have an empire protected by an Emperor, and placed under the safeguard of its charter and its laws. After this

Germany has no more ardent wish then to achieve victory in the noble strife for peace and liberty and their attendant blessings We are the most faithfully devoted subjects of your Imperial Majesty.

DER DRUTSCHE REICHSTAG. -An old citizen of Morrisville, Vt., and his wife died very suddenly on the evening of the 4th inst., within ten minutes of each other. He was eighty-nine and she eighty-four years of A lady living with them left them for a few minutes, the wife lying on the bed and the husband sitting in a chair. When she returned the old lady was dead, and the husband, whom she besitated to tell, conversed some, and before friends could be summoned died without knowing that his wife had passed away.
